

Oral History in Interdisciplinary Comm College Pedagogy

Funded by NEH for 2023-2025

We would like to invite faculty to participate in the NEH Seminar: Oral History in Interdisciplinary Community College Pedagogy that will be run through CTL. The seminar will have faculty explore how oral history practices can help recenter their teaching practices to the vantage points of individuals and communities of minority groups whose perspectives are often marginalized in published materials and media. We are particularly interested in participation from faculty in non-history disciplines, where the oral history has not been commonly adopted in teaching and research.

For more information about the seminar please visit: <https://oralhistory.commonsgc.cuny.edu/>

Stipend: All participants will receive a $1,000 stipend. The seminar is open to both full-time and part-time faculty.

Schedule: Meetings will be HyFlex and run between 1:00pm and 4:00pm
